Build Your GTM Machine

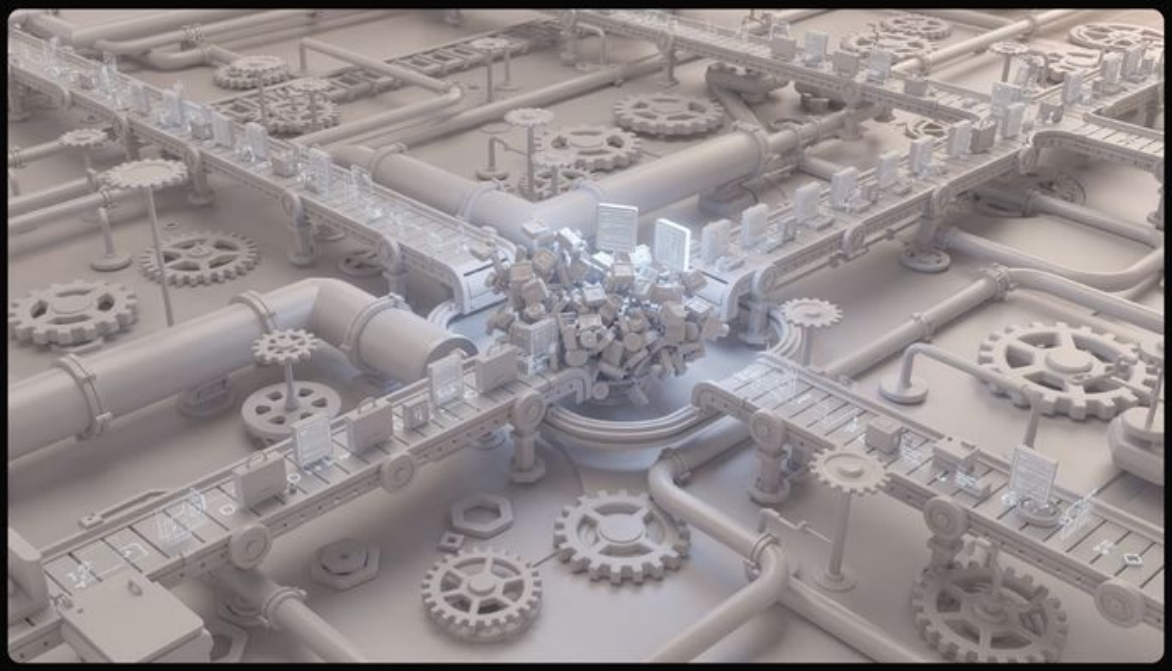
Start With Bottleneck Analysis

(Outbound to Signal-Based, step by step)

GTM is a system. Systems fail at bottlenecks.

If you fix the wrong thing first, every improvement is noise.

— Learned from Decki Bush



Rule 1: If you do not have a clear goal, that is your bottleneck.

KEY TARGETS

For GTM, set:

Pipeline Target

Opportunities

Revenue Target

Closed deals

Example: "$50k pipeline in 30 days" "$10k closed in 30 days"

Rule 2: Bottlenecks only appear when you execute and fail.

Pick one GTM motion and run it.

Example: outbound

Start Outbound
Initiate GTM motion

Send Emails
Target 50 emails

Run Touches
7 touches over 14 days

Track & Diagnose
Monitor replies & booked calls

No motion = no diagnosis.

Rule 3: Solve one bottleneck and the next will show up.

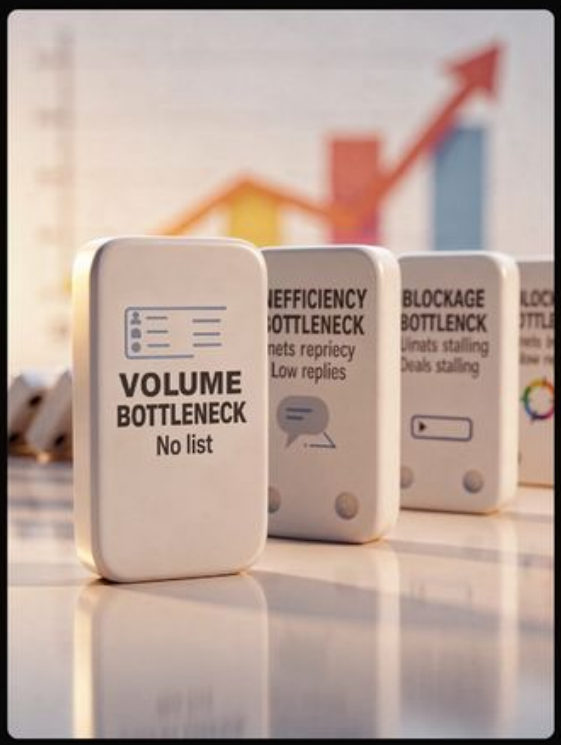
Example sequence:

No list -> volume bottleneck

Fix list -> replies are low -> inefficiency bottleneck

Fix relevance -> calls book, but deals stall -> blockage bottleneck

You fix in order. Always.



Rule 4: Bottlenecks shift as you scale.

Typical progression: Missing pieces → inefficiency → volume → blockage

What solves today will not solve next.

Example:

Missing pieces
no offer, no follow-up, no booking flow

Inefficiency
mass outreach, weak relevance, low reply rate

Volume
too few accounts, not enough contacts weekly

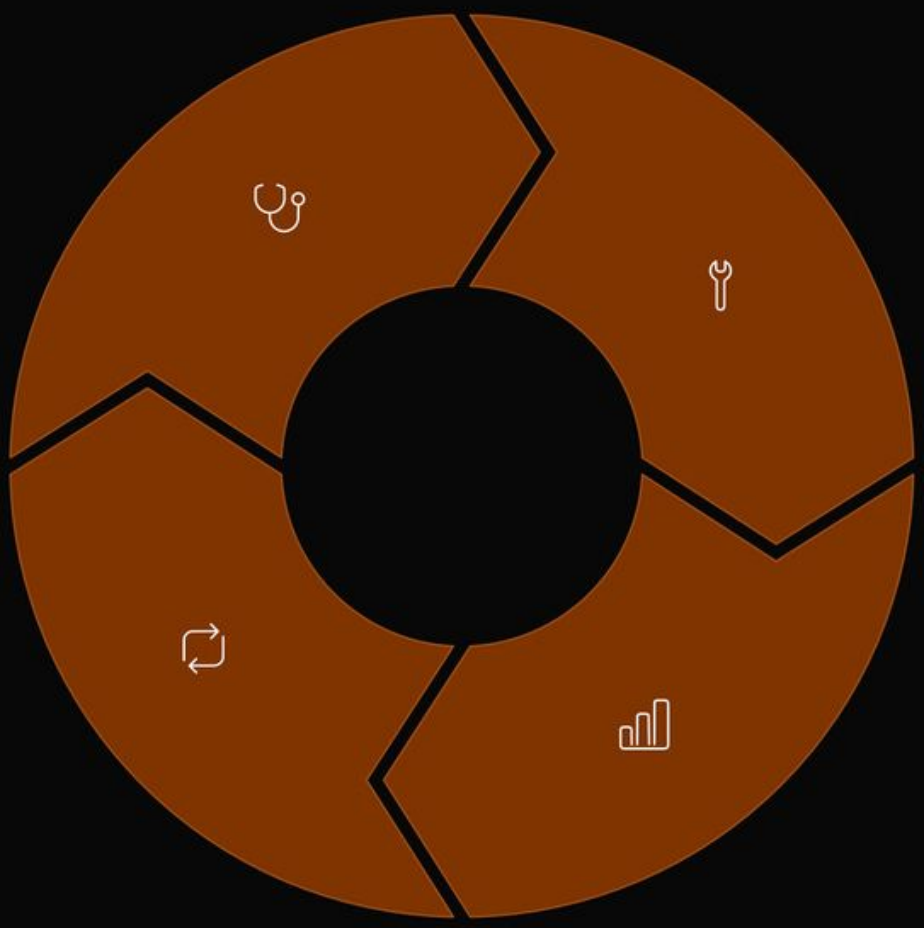
Blockage
qualification confusion, slow response, stuck proposals

Rule 5: Bottlenecks repeat.

This is not a one-time fix. It is a weekly diagnostic habit.

Your GTM machine is:

Diagnose → Fix → Measure → Repeat



Diagnose

Fix

Measure

Repeat

Now, apply the rules to a founder starting from zero:

No offer. No list. No proof.

Your job is to build the machine in order.

1. Zero
2. Predictable Pipeline

If you start with no offer, outbound will not save you.

⚠ OFFER

Offer is the bottleneck.

No offer = no reason to reply.

Offer v1 Template

Template Structure:

For [ICP] with [pain] I deliver [outcome] in [time] using [mechanism] without [fear]

Example:

For early B2B SaaS founders in MENA with inconsistent demos, I help you book 10 qualified calls in 14 days using signal-based outbound without hiring SDRs.

Once offer exists, you need volume to learn.

Minimum viable list:

200

Accounts

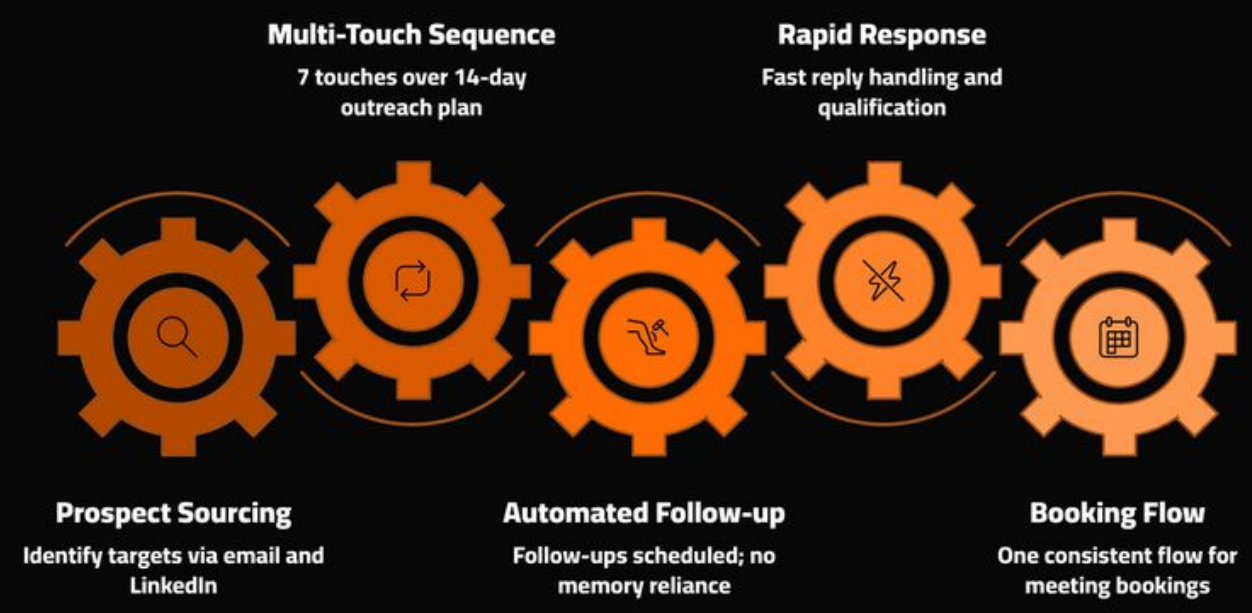
400-800

Contacts

If you do not have volume, you will not get feedback loops.

Minimum viable outbound engine:

- One channel pair: email + LinkedIn
- 7 touches over 14 days
- Follow-up never relies on memory
- Fast reply handling
- One booking flow



Consistency creates compounding.

Lead magnets are not for vanity.

They reduce friction and reopen threads.

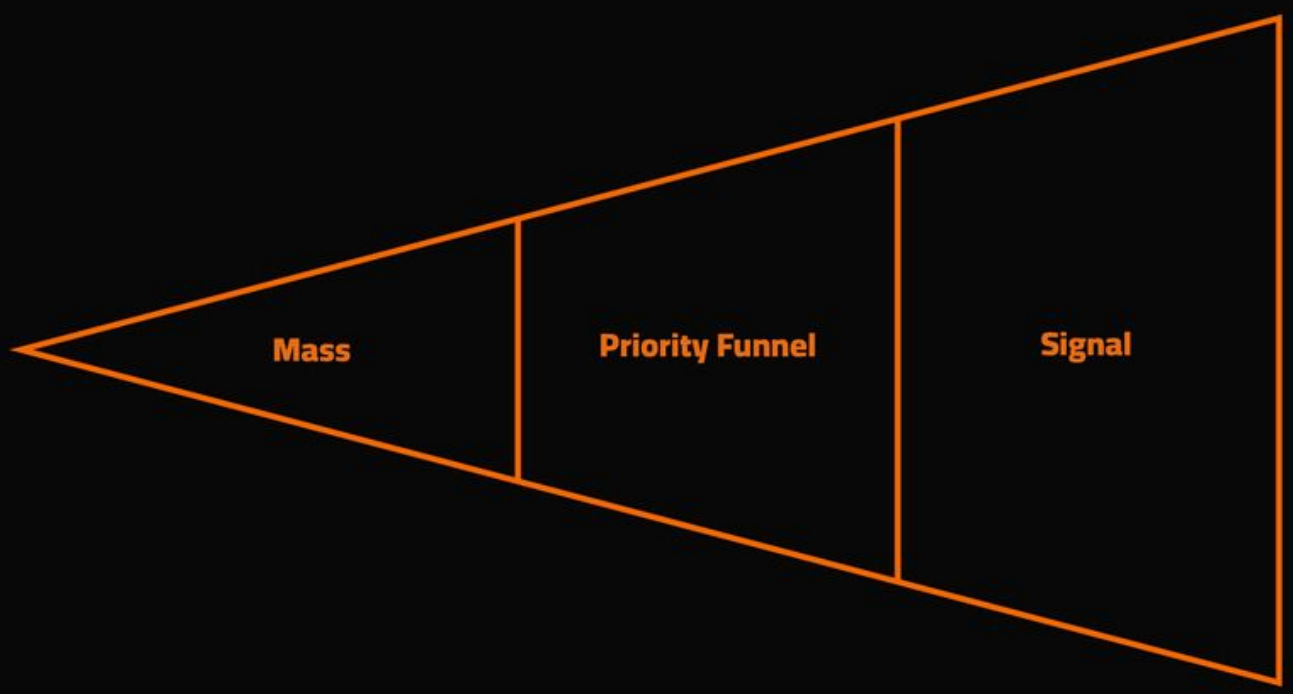
Once volume runs, you hit inefficiency:

Too much effort for too few replies.

Signal-based fixes this:



Signals decide:

- Who gets priority
- What angle you use

Examples of signals:

Hiring sales ▪ Fundraising ▪ Market expansion ▪ Founder posting about pipeline
